Jackson Cash-Book.
Dix Walker has sold his newspaper plant, the Oak Ridge Indicator, to John Mann of Jackson.

Hills Headlight.
George Clifford was drowned at Manning's landing the evening of August 8, while taking a swim. His body was recovered on the 10th. He was about twenty years old.

The De Soto Press says wolves have been making free with sheep in Washington county and that the farmers are organizing for an effort to round up and exterminate them.

A Press dispatch says plans have been completed for the construction of a large strawboard factory in Sikeston. As thousands of dollars' worth of straw is burned every year on account of no market, the new factory, if constructed, will be a boon to farmers in the surrounding territory.

A Jefferson City dispatch says M. J. Conran and others have applied for a charter for a seventy-mile railroad to run through Cape Girardeau, Scott and Mississippi counties, connecting Cape Girardeau with the Frisco railroad in New Madrid county. The capital stock is $700,000.

Jackson Cash-Book.
Henry Dow, 51 years old, was shot Saturday night, August 6, by Mrs. Lilly McFerron, a widow, at her home three miles northwest of Jackson and died Sunday evening at 7:30. Dow had gone to her house and after being warned away made an attempt to force the door, when she shot him, using a shotgun.

A Cape Girardeau telegram dated Aug. 12 says: Christian Meyer, 95 years old, the oldest citizen of Cape Girardeau, committed suicide at noon to-day by hanging. He had been despondent for some time and had threatened to kill himself, so was closely watched by his wife. He had been out of her presence only half an hour when she found his body hanging in the attic, life extinct. Mr. Meyer came to Cape Girardeau from Waldeck, Germany, fifty years ago, and for a long time was a prosperous shoemaker, but had done but little work for several years.

Sikeston Herald.

Although melons are late, the crop slightly damaged and the yield diminished, still the bottom has been knocked out of the prices on them so that the choicest melons are being peddled in Sikeston by the growers for 10c, while lots of good ones are offered for 5c, and they are experiencing some difficulty in disposing of wagon load lots at that price. The first melons sold for as high as $170 per car load, but the price has steadily declined until it is away below that now. About 1,000,000 watermelons and 150,000 cantaloupes have been shipped out from Scott county during the last two weeks. Several carloads were shipped from Sikeston, Miner and McMullin this week.

Wayne County Journal.

Wayne county, too, is in need of a new courthouse. On account of apparent weakness of the walls of the one in use Judge Williams hesitated about holding court in it, and it was only on account of the impossibility of securing another room that court was held there. The building was condemned by the last grand jury, but no action has been taken to remedy conditions, either to repair the present edifice or to build a new one. Men versed in building construction have declared the house unsafe, and the large fissures in the walls and sinking of the foundation attest the truth of their statement. The penurious policy of letting well enough alone will in the end prove expensive. Should the building collapse after being condemned, with injury to its occupants, the county would have damages to pay that would in all probability amount to more than twice the cost of a new courthouse.

Notice to Contractors

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at my office up to Monday, August 29, 1910, at 1:00 o'clock p.m., for building a wooden bridge across Clubb creek, in section 24, township 29, range 9, on the Lutesville and Greenbrier public road. With the understanding however that the sum of $10,000, being the amount of a certain subscription list of S. G. Bedwell et al, now on file in the County Clerk's office, shall be accepted by the contractor in payment of said amount on his contract. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the county highway engineer.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.
J. M. ZIMMERMAN,
County Highway Engineer.

And in Massachusetts

The owner of the dog was notified and will probably be shot by the police, Holyoise (Mass.) Transcript.

Reckless of human life or of the English language, and in Massachusetts, the proud "sons of culture" and Senators Lodge. Who'd-a-thought?

October 3 Woodmen Day

In their efforts to make the opening day of the State fair at Sedalia a great day, the directors have displayed excellent judgment in turning that day over to the Modern Woodmen of America, who have already managed to make the big-goose Woodmen day a great event in the state. The two divisions have designated 925, 325 Modern Woodmen Day and have offered $2,250 in cash prizes to Woodmen, which was previously designated $100,000 members of the order in Missouri. Some of the best dressed military men in the United States, who are connected with the army in out, are to be found in the Forest's department of the Modern Woodmen, and the handsome prizes will no doubt attract a large number of teams from this and adjoining states.

Aside from drills, log riding, races of war and other field sports peculiar to the Modern Woodmen, the day's program will include some of the best of the week and an archery fight by the famous Wright brothers.

Without doubt the Modern Woodmen will be the most interesting and attractive display during the entire fair.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

The building committee appointed by Lutesville Lodge, No. 385, I. O. O. F., will receive bids for the erection of a two-story building, 20x100 feet, either concrete or brick, to be erected at Lutesville, Mo. Plans may be seen at the Peoples Bank, in Lutesville.

The committee reserves the right to accept or reject any of all bids, which will be opened Saturday, August 27, 1910. By order of committee:

Ed LUTES, President.
SAM J. McMINN, Secretary.
